

Winter Nonprofit Institute

Neighborhood Technical Assistance Clinic's nonprofit expert, Valerie Oliver-Durrah, will convene a Winter Nonprofit Institute for leaders who wish to learn and grow by participating in these dialogues featuring targeted topics designed to encourage and engage nonprofit leaders who wish to start a nonprofit or begin consulting work while between jobs. Link to our website: <http://www.neighborhoodclinic.org>.

Join us for a frank dialogue about how we can grow your nonprofit even during the slumped fiscal economy. Take time to recharge and redirect your objectives for the upcoming year. If you are serving communities of color, this may be a special opportunity for you.

Sessions will be held at the offices of NTAC at 544 MacDonough Street (between Patchen and Ralph Avenues), Brooklyn NY, and are limited to 10 participants each. The fee is $100 for each session. Reservations with payment for sessions will only be accepted on a first come, first serve basis.

Valerie Oliver-Durrah has made a career of philanthropic advisement, non-profit management, life coaching and writing. As President and Chief Executive Officer of the Neighborhood Technical Assistance Clinic (NTAC), she utilizes a well-developed, executive skill set in support of organizations and leaders who seek to address the needs of underserved communities. Adept at helping grassroots service providers develop effective programs and navigate the challenging terrain of fundraising, Ms. Oliver-Durrah has aided dozens of organizations in securing the economic and technical resources they need to flourish in difficult economic times.

The Neighborhood Technical Assistance Clinic provides strategic direction, organizational oversight and technical assistance clinics to grassroots nonprofits and grantmakers. We create dialogues between funders, community-based and faith-based organizations to grow sound grassroots delivery of programs and services for neighborhood needs.
